DISCLAIMER OF LIABILITY FOR THE ALPIN TEAM TRAIL 2027

COMPETITION: K50 & K23 & K10

General information

Attention: Trail running events take place in nature, lead through nature reserves and over existing paths, trails, gravel roads, forest roads, public and private roads. The road traffic regulations must be observed and in the event of oncoming traffic, run on the left or follow the marked paths. Order must be maintained when crossing public paths and private property. Unfair behavior towards other participants, refusal to help, distress of other participants and contamination of nature will result in immediate disqualification by the organizer.

If items of the prescribed compulsory equipment are missing at the check before the start, these can, if possible, be brought in before the start, otherwise a participation in the race is not permitted. If the items are missing during an inspection on the course, the organizer will remove this participant from the competition.

Exclusion of liability

The organizer assumes no liability for damage to persons and property on the entire course, in the start/finish area, in the parking lot and other event locations during the race weekend. This also includes the loss of clothing and other items. Each participant confirms bindingly upon receipt of their race bib that they are fit to participate in terms of health and that the organizer and all helpers accept no liability whatsoever.

- As a participant in the Alpin Team Trail 2027

I declare that I have trained sufficiently to take part in my registered competition, that I am physically fit and that my state of health has been confirmed by a doctor. The race doctor, rescue team, sweeper(s) and race management are authorized to remove obviously physically and mentally weakened participants from the race.

- As a participant in the Alpin Team Trail 2027

I agree that the data stated in my registration, which is collected and processed by photos, film recordings and interviews made in connection with my participation in the Alpin Team Trail 2027 may be used in radio, television, advertising, books, photomechanical reproduction - films, video cassettes, etc. - without any claims for remuneration on my part. As a participant, I confirm that the year of birth I have stated is correct and that I will not pass on my race bib to any other person. In the event of non-participation, there is no entitlement to a refund of the entry fee. (Note according to the Austrian Data Protection Act: Your data will be stored automatically).

The organizer assumes no liability for the entire event in the start/finish area, on the race trail or other locations connected to the event and is to be held harmless within the scope of this liability disclaimer. Furthermore, the organizer assumes no responsibility for injuries or similar.

By registering, each participant expressly agrees to the exclusion of liability and the house rules of the organizer. The organizer assumes no liability in any form.
